About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHEUS T.

LOOKING AROUND: The Metropolis News reports preliminary work is progressing on the site of the Metropolis plant of the General Chemical division of Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation. Construction will start late in July or early in August.

Metropolis got on the ball and look what happened!

From the Detroit Times I have received a clipping, which is a big picture and a story in which Mrs. James Bussard, a former Harrisburg resident is one of the principals.

The story tells about "Muggs," five-year-old female boxer dog belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Bussard, taking up nursing three orphan kittens whose mother was killed by an auto.

The Bussards found the three newborn kittens in their attic June 9 on return from a trip. The mother was a homeless animal who was killed, Mrs. Bussard learned.

Mrs. Bussard put the kittens in a cardboard box and was going to try to hand-feed them with a doll-sized baby bottle, but Muggs brushed her aside and took over.

"They're getting fat like butter balls," reported Mrs. Bussard, the former Jane Ellen Shain and grand daughter of Mrs. Hudnell of this city. "One is so big it's hard for it to lift its feet off the ground. Muggs washes them, too. But her tongue is so long that they look like drowned rats, they get so wet."

Harry Porter, writing in the Har- din County Independent, says:

"Here's a Believe It or Not which might not win a prize—but is winning surprise. Since arrival of the mail in Harrisburg became earlier, the mail truck has been reaching Elizabethtown shortly after 10 a. m., instead of almost noon, and mail gets sorted for receivers quickly afterwards."

And back home again: Brought to The Daily Register by Amos Cox of 29 Indiana, Harrisburg, was a regular green bean with an odd shape. It looks like a torso and legs, but is headless, footless and handless.

Mr. Cox said it's the first he's seen like it and that a number of other persons had told him the same thing.

To Drill Oil Test In Harco Town Site

A test for oil will be drilled in the Harco town site, it was learned today.

Operators will be Roy Powers and Ray Hendricks of Kokomo, Ind., who will drill the Powers-Hendricks Peabody Coal Co. No. 1 in Section 27, 8S-5E (Brushy). Bill Hisey is the geologist.

The rig was being moved in today and the McCloskey will be tested.

Two tests in Raleigh township were abandoned. They were the Lohmann - Johnson Grot - Quick Communized No. 1, SWc SW NE, 5-8S-6E; and Carter's J. S. Raybourn No. 4, NEc SW NW, 20-8S-6E.

Brownell Says U. S. Court Cannot Stop Girard Trial

WASHINGTON (UP)—Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. says Japan has the right to try Army Specialist 3c William S. Girard regardless of how the Supreme Court rules in the case.

In a brief filed with the court Monday, Brownell said U. S. troops visiting a foreign nation are not immune from foreign jurisdiction unless the local government allows them immunity.

Brownell asked the court to reverse a lower court decision barring the United States from turning Girard over to Japan for trial on manslaughter charges.

Girard and Jap Sweetheart Wed 40 Miles Apart

TOKYO (UP)—Specialist 3c William S. Girard married his Japanese sweetheart today and pronounced married life "wonderful" even though there was no ceremony and his bride was 40 miles away.

The marriage became legal when his sweetheart, Haru (Candy) Suyama, who will be 29 on Friday, registered the match at Akasaka ward office in Tokyo, all that is necessary under Japanese law which the United States recognizes.

"I feel just wonderful," the 21-year-old Ottawa, Ill., soldier said through a friend when informed that he was married. It would take me a long time to tell you how much we are looking forward to all those good things we expect as man and wife."

"I just can't express how precious being married to Candy is to me," Girard said.

Candy hurried back to Camp Whittington immediately after the registration to meet Girard at the home of a friend, Sgt. Gilbert Saylor, New Market, Va., just as they have met every night since May 16.

But there will be no formal honeymoon for the newly wedded couple since Girard is confined to the camp.

At lights out tonight Girard will escort Candy to a bus stop and she will return to her home near the base and Girard will return to his barracks.

A Methodist church ceremony will be held Friday in the chapel with Army Chaplain Maj. Harry C. Rickard of Washington, D. C., presiding.

Parks is Taken To Murphysboro To Face Charges

Audie Parks, ex-convict arrested in Saline county on an information charging him with assault with a deadly weapon in connection with striking Robert Cole with a bottle, has been taken to Edwardsville, Ill. to face charges there.

At Edwardsville he is charged with aggravated assault.

Two women were arrested with him and one, Joyce Turner, 24, who posed as Parks' wife, is being held for Lansing, Mich., authorities. She is wanted there as a parole violator. She had been placed on parole after having serving nine months of a one-to-14-year term for passing bad checks. The second girl was released last Friday and boarded a bus for her home in Chicago.

Eldorado Man Jailed Following Incident In Gallatin County

Rex Vickery of Eldorado today was returned to the Saline County jail as a probation violator following an incident in Gallatin county Monday night. He was brought to Harrisburg by Deputy Sheriffs Everett N. Sneed and Charles Donelson.

Millard Holloway, Gallatin county sheriff, said Vickery was driving an auto that figured in a crash on Route 13 near Equality.

Two companions got away, he stated. Holloway said that charges of driving while intoxicated and disorderly conduct would be filed against Vickery in Gallatin county.

Down Payments Cut on Homes

WASHINGTON (UP)—Down payments on new homes are about to be cut drastically, it was reported today. This should touch off a home-buying and building spurt, according to industry sources.

Congress Monday completed action and sent to the White House a bill authorizing sharp reductions in down payments required on government-insured mortgages.

The White House and federal housing officials were understood to be generally satisfied with its terms. It was expected to be signed quickly and the lower down-payment minimums put into effect promptly.

If this is done it would mean the minimum down payment on a $10,000 house would go down from the present $700 to $300.

On a $12,000 home the present minimum of $1,200 would drop to $600; on a $15,000 home it would be lowered from $1,950 to $1,050, and on a $20,000 dwelling, from $3,200 to $2,400.

Accident Victims Are Improving

Joe Allen Moore, son of Mrs. Mildred Moore, 123 West College street, Harrisburg, who was injured in the accident Thursday night that took the lives of Marion Lasseter, Bertis Webb, Jimmy Smith of Harrisburg, and Earl Brown of Eldorado, is reported to be improving at St. Mary's hospital in Evansville, Ind., where he was taken Friday.

His mother is with him and gives his room number as 638 D, stating that he can read cards and messages from his friends and will appreciate hearing from them. He is still paralyzed from the waist down, but is in good spirits and improving as well as can be expected. So many inquiries have been made, that the family is making this effort to relieve as much as possible, the concern of their many friends.

The other injured boys, Edwin Cannon and Robert Taylor, in Ferrell hospital, Eldorado, are said to be improving and their condition as good as can be expected. Billy Watson was released from Ferrell hospital, Saturday.

Name Steering Committee for Industry Group

A steering committee has been chosen to develop a plan of organization and procedure for the group that is being set up to try and get industry into the area.

The committee, composed of Raymond E. Field and Freeman O'Keefe of Carrier Mills, William Alfred Smith of Galatia, Glenn Muckley and Aubrey Giles of Eldorado, Eckert Ozmert of Stonefort and Robert Davenport and Fwell Winkelman of Harrisburg, will report its findings to the industrial group central committee at a meeting to be announced.

Following the industrial meeting Friday night, at which Richard Poston of Southern Illinois University was the speaker, delegates present decided upon the steering committee to set for procedure. The delegates are representatives chosen from various organizations of the county.

STUNNED—Dazed and still suffering from shock, the hurricane survivors pictured, above, at emergency quarters in Lake Charles, La., are typical of many who lost loved ones in the furious onslaught of hurricane Audrey. At left is Mrs. Earl Mouton, of Cameron, La. She and her husband are the only persons accounted for of 11 in their house when tidal waters demolished it. At right, Norman Wood, another Cameron resident saw three of his sons die in the merciless waters before he was rescued.

Dr. J. M. Baldwin Takes Office as Illinois Baptist Sec'y of Evangelism

Dr. J. M. Baldwin, who was elected Secretary of Evangelism by the Illinois State Baptist association in April, assumed his duties on July 1. He will move with his family to Carbondale within the next few days.

Dr. Baldwin, who was born in Harrisburg, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baldwin, has been pastor of the First Baptist Church in Salem since 1944. He resigned his pastorate there to become Secretary of Evangelism. He graduated from the Harrisburg schools and was ordained by the Harrisburg First Baptist Church.

Dr. Baldwin has been for 12 years a member of the Board of Directors of the Illinois Baptist State Association, and chairman of the Education committee of the board and a member of the literature committee. He has been a member of the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention and was at the time of his election to the Evangelism office a member of the executive committee of the Southern Baptist Convention. For the past three years he has been chairman of the Committee on Convention Arrangements of the Executive Board of the Convention. Other services include membership of the Radio and Television Commission of the Convention.

He served as president of the State Association in 1954 and 1955 and was selected by citizens of Salem as Outstanding Citizen of the Year in 1954. In 1955 he was a member of an Illinois group attending the Baptist World Alliance Congress in London, England, and toured European and Middle Eastern countries.

Dr. Baldwin in 1932 was married to Miss Ruby Margaret Smith and they have three children: Marvin, a junior pre-med student in Georgetown College, John Timothy, a high school student, and Elizabeth Ann, a student in Junior high school.

The Salem Church honored Dr. Baldwin and his family Wednesday night in a "This Is Your Life" program, and at a reception that followed he and his family were presented with a silver service.

Today Thompson was scheduled to file an answer to the complaint in which Mayor Claud Gibbons and Commissioner Morris Darrell seek to have the court remove Williams from his city post on grounds he has moved outside the corporate limits.

Cites Trend in Soviet Union for More Freedom

Secretary's News Conference Devoted
Mostly to China

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today that free governments eventually will supplant Communist despotism in Russia and Red China.

Dulles told a news conference that changes in the two countries toward free governments eventually will come about by evolutionary or possibly even revolutionary means.

Dulles said, indeed, the trend in the Soviet Union today is toward greater freedom. He said there are more revolutionary elements in the Communist China than in Russia. But he would make no flat predictions of revolutions in either country, or when freedom would prevail over communism.

Dulles also affirmed President Eisenhower's statement on June 19 that Red China would not have to be brought into a worldwide disarmament agreement. He said, however, that a system can be devised which would provide for calling off a disarmament agreement if Red China, even though not a signatory, violated terms of any agreement.

Dulles voiced doubt that Red China would attempt to produce atomic or hydrogen weapons.

Means of Entrapment
He said the U. S. assumption is that Communist China would not get nuclear weapons aid from Russia if an East-West disarmament agreement is signed. He said provisions of such an agreement would preclude such a transfer, and any violations undoubtedly would become known.

Dulles' news conference centered almost entirely on Red China. He said his San Francisco speech last Friday restating U. S. opposition to the Chinese Communist regime was approved by the President.

Dulles said he believes that statements by Chinese Red leader Mao Tse-tung on the possibility of greater flexibility of Communist rule in Red China was a means of entrapment.

Dulles did not bar possible future recognition of the Chinese Communists if they stay in power.

Agree to Wage Increase for Rail Engineers

CHICAGO (UP)—The National Mediation Board announced today that the nation's railroads and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have agreed on a 13 per cent wage increase over the next three years.

The agreement, reached Monday night, calls for a 6 per cent raise in the average basic daily rate, effective last Nov. 1. Second and third year increases of 3½ per cent each, would become effective Nov. 1, 1957, and Nov. 1, 1958.

The agreement now will be submitted to the brotherhood's general chairman, the board said.

Terms include a cost-of-living escalator clause under which wage rates will be geared to changes in the consumer price index.

Brain Power

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

We've all been hearing for a long time now about America's shortage of engineers, scientists, teachers and other trained specialists. But perhaps most of us have tended to think of each kind of shortage as an individual, isolated problem.

It remains for the magazine Business Week, in a recent issue, to draw the strands together and show convincingly that we are suffering a general shortage of brainpower which is getting more acute by the day.

We live in an age where attention is given more and more to the automatic operation of industry. Increasingly, mechanical tasks are performed and controlled in the factory by automatic machinery. Electronic computers, communicators and other devices do "brain work" at a mounting pace.

But, as Business Week astutely observed, this is not having the effect of eliminating the need for brains or of spawning a race of robots. On the contrary, it has created a greater demand for brainpower than ever in the nation's history.

For as machinery becomes more complex, as science advances in its applications to industry, men of high intelligence are required as never before to manage and coordinate operations.

The magazine found that representative industrial concerns are leaning far more heavily than formerly upon people of educated intelligence. They are pulling in college graduates at rate five, 10 and 20 times that which prevailed two decades ago.

As industry is compelled to rely on smarter, better-trained people, so too is government, including the now highly mechanized armed forces. And by the same token so must our schools and colleges find more and better teachers to train young Americans to take their places in so demanding a society.

What is happening, said Business Week, is a massive upgrading of the skills required of our whole labor force. The spotlight henceforth will be on those among us who are capable of exercising judgment, imagination and the other high faculties of intelligence.

As an important sign of this trend, the U. S. Labor Department reports that in 1957 for the first time white-collar workers outnumber blue-collar workers in the working force. And the department forecasts that in the next eight years the fastest employment growth will be among professionally trained people. Laborers and farmers will either hold even or decline in numbers.

The marks are clear. American industrial society is switching from brawn to brains even as it reduces more and more work to the automatic level. The big question we face is not whether machines will outdate the human brain. They will not. The question is whether we can find and develop the brains we need to keep our fantastic industrial and governmental mechanism steadily moving toward the higher levels of living it promises for us all.

"We Proved One Thing—We Can't Go That Way"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Truman Listens To Senators Rib Each Other; The FBI Lobbies For New Law On Its Files; Supreme Court Pioneered Nothing Very New On FBI Testimony.

WASHINGTON — Harry Truman, returning to his old haunts on Capitol Hill where he used to serve as a senator, lunched in the office of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas. Present was Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, onetime Republican.

During the luncheon, Johnson started kidding Morse. "Wayne came down to Texas a couple of years ago," said the senator from Texas, "and made a speech about me. He said, 'Texas is entitled to have at least two senators in Washington. But it doesn't have any! Price Daniel represents the oil industry, and Lyndon Johnson represents only himself!'"

"And that speech, Mr. President," interrupted Morse, "cost me. I was about to sell Lyndon two English Red Devons. But after that speech I lost a customer."

"Last fall," continued the senator from Texas banteringly, "when Wayne was up for re-election I offered to go out to Oregon to help him. I told him that I would make a speech for him or, if it would help him more, I'd make a speech against him."

There were chuckles from ex-President Truman and assembled guests. Senator Morse didn't say much. "What would have happened," he asked, "if I hadn't been re-elected? You would not have been majority leader."

Despite the ribbing, or perhaps because of it, everyone had a good time—especially Truman. THE FBI LOBBY public relations lobbyist for J. Edgar Hoover, has been buttonholing congressmen on Capitol Hill urging that they rush through a new law "to protect" FBI files.

As a result, Congress will probably jam through a law, despite the lateness of the session. Chief danger is that the law will go too far and be thrown out once again by the Supreme Court. For the Supreme Court's ruling was based on constitutional grounds which no congress can change, regardless of J. Edgar Hoover or Congressman Francis Walter of the un-American Activities Committee.

There has been so much congressional screaming about protecting FBI files that it would be a good idea for certain congressmen to examine carefully just what the Supreme Court ruled regarding the FBI.

What happened was this: Clinton Jencks of the Mine, Mill, and Smelter Workers Union, was convicted on the testimony of Harvey Matusow, then an undercover agent for the FBI. Matusow was a mixed-up person who worked first for the FBI, then for Senator McCarthy, then decided he had been engaged in torturing innocent people, joined a church, confessed all, and swore under oath that he had lied about Jencks and others.

This, however, came later. During the earlier Jencks trial, which was the only question before the Supreme Court, Matusow testified he had made various reports about Jencks to the FBI. Jencks' attorneys then asked to see these reports.

They did not ask to go through the FBI files. They asked for specific Matusow reports mentioned on the witness stand. Perhaps they had some indication that Matusow was a mixed-up person who was not telling the truth—as later demonstrated. At any rate they argued that they had the right to examine these reports for the purpose of trying to impeach the witness.

The Supreme Court in an overwhelming 7-to-1 decision has now found for Jencks. In doing so it did not authorize any rummaging through FBI files, despite the statement of lone dissenter Tom Clark.

Justice Brennan, the Eisenhower appointee who wrote the opinion, was extremely carefully furthered, the Supreme Court (in 34 U. S. at 419) had ruled before that: "The demand was for the production of specific documents and did not propose any broad or blind fishing expedition among documents possessed by the government. . . . Nor was this a demand for statements taken from persons or informants not offered as witnesses."

Noting this prior decision, Justice Brennan wrote: "We reaffirm and re-emphasize these essentials. . . . Every experienced trial judge and trial lawyer knows the value for impeachment purposes of statements of the witness regarding events before time dulls treacherous memory."

It was this carefully written, narrow opinion which has caused all the wringing of hands on Capitol Hill and the lobbying of Lou Nichols to get a new law jammed through Congress.

Cadillac

America At Its Bountiful Best!

You are looking, as you surely know, at a magnificent motor car—beautiful, luxurious, substantial and inspiring.

But you are also looking at tangible proof of the bountiful land that is America!

Certainly, for instance, no one could behold a Cadillac without gaining new respect for our freedom to create and to produce. For where but from America could there come a motor car so rare in beauty or so marvelous in quality and luxury?

Surely, no one could take the wheel of a Cadillac without appreciating our nation's industrial skill and progress. For where but from America could there come a motor car so fine in performance?

And most assuredly, no one could hear the practical facts about Cadillac without marveling at our nation's well-being. For where but in America could so prized a personal possession be brought within the economic range of so many?

We think it appropriate, therefore, to pay tribute to these precious American virtues—and to express our own gratitude at having been privileged to put them to such extraordinary use.

And we should also like to take this opportunity of personally inviting all America to see and inspect its "ambassador at large".

You will find that the 1957 Cadillac, with its luxurious Fleetwood coachcrafting, is the finest "Standard of the World" ever created. And you will also find that this is the perfect moment, from the standpoint of both delivery and economy, to make the move to Cadillac.

24th Annual Barter Reunion At Spring Grove Church

The 24th annual reunion of the Barter family was held Sunday at the Spring Grove church. The weather was ideal for an out of doors meeting and relatives and friends of the family gathered to enjoy the day, greet old friends and relatives and share the basket dinner under the trees.

Following the noon meal, the president, Mrs. Mac Miller, called the meeting to order in the church. Mrs. Buddy Peyton directed the music program and led the singing of hymns. There were talks by members and guests. O. E. Barter led in prayer. Rev. Peyton, pastor of the Spring Grove church, made a spiritual talk which was well received by the group.

Mrs. Elizabeth Legan, sister of O. E. Barter, was the oldest member of the family present and will celebrate her 90th birthday July 10.

Business of the meeting consisted of the reading of the minutes of last year's meeting and the taking of a collection to carry on the reunions. Those who could not attend sent greetings and regrets that illnesses or distance prevented their attendance.

Officers elected to serve for the next year were as follows: George Barter, president; John C. Small, vice-president; O. E. Barter, treasurer, and Nellie Barter, secretary. The meeting was adjourned until 1958, when the group sang "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again" and Buddy Peyton led the closing prayer.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Small and Mary Margaret, Galatia; Mr. and Mrs. John E. Newton, Marion; Mrs. Mae Miller, and Mrs. Elizabeth Leegan, Canton Ohio; Rev. and Mrs. Buddy Peyton, Carrier Mills; David Owen, Evansville, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Emory O. Kaid, Pontiac, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Thomas and children, Taylorville; Mrs. Myrtle Everett, San Antonio, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Leegan, Herrin; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee, Caren Smith, Mrs. Eva Enoch, Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn and Mr. and Mrs. George Barter, West Frankfort;

Mrs. Earl Griffin, Pittsburg, RFD 1; Miss Rachel Barter and Herbert Mace, Carrier Mills RFD 1; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Upchurch, Raleigh; and the following from Harrisburg: Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Horning, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Barter, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Vinyard and children, David and Barry Vinyard, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Davenport, Miss Nellie Barter, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barter, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Barter, Jewel D. and Norma Barter and son, Jeff, Mrs. Agnes Barter, Mrs. Paul Showalter, Mrs. Sula Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. Kirt Gasaway.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Wyly and five months old son, James Douglas, of Great Neck, L. I., New York, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hine, 221 West Poplar, for two weeks. Mrs. Wyly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hine.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Many citizens are preparing for a big holiday weekend next week. For many, the Fourth of July this year will be marked by a four day holiday as the nation celebrates the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Heavy highway traffic during the period will bring added responsibility to motorists. Some drivers, who refuse to be courteous when behind a steering wheel, will endanger the lives of others as well as their own lives by dangerous driving habits. Top on the list of these bad habits during peak traffic periods, it always seems, is that of some drivers who are in such a hurry to reach their destinations that they will continually risk a serious, if not fatal, accident to "save" a few seconds.

These drivers weave in and out of traffic; they attempt to pass other vehicles without the necessary safe passing distance between their car and cars approaching from the opposite direction; they refuse to yield the right-of-way; and they do not keep a safe distance between their vehicle and the vehicle they are following.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Calendar Of Meetings

Midweek service at the First Methodist church will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in Hall Chapel.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. George Lane of Harrisburg are announcing the birth of their grandson on June 28. The eight pound, seven ounce boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kohl of East Alto, former residents of Harrisburg, and the mother of the child is the former Miss Retha Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pankey of 927 Barnett street, Harrisburg, are parents of a girl born at the Harrisburg hospital, Monday. The baby has been named Patricia Carol and weighed six pounds, 12 ounces at birth.

Army Reopens Ranks

In 6-Months Training
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army reopened its enlistment ranks today to young men who agree to join the reserves after taking six months of active training. The program was suspended on May 14 because an "overwhelming" number of enlistees threatened to outrun available training funds.

SUBSTITUTE DOCTOR
By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

THE STORY: Because he finds himself compared with Dr. Kurt Lillard, Dr. Garde Shelton is drawn into a study of the mysterious murder for which Kurt was convicted. Garde feels that he is a "substitute" for Kurt, even to the extent that people ask him to escort Nan Stanfield, Kurt's fiancée, to parties.

XV
There were times, and literally, when Kurt's shoes pinched. One of those times began with a call out to Cornel's one morning. The patient was the younger of Dr. Cornel's two daughters. She had had a little cold the day before, or had seemed to. This morning her temperature was elevated and her neck was stiff.

Cornel was in a panic. "One always thinks of polio!" Garde went up to the little girl's bedroom, examined the child and made a spinal tap. He went on to the hospital, and Allison Cornel followed him. He was in and out of Garde's office four times during the morning.

When the lab report came to him, Garde went over to Cornel's office and gave him the news. "Nothing," he said to the anxious father. "Absolutely nothing." Cornel reached his hand for the phone.

"I've told Gene," Garde anticipated his move. "She says Susan's temperature is down. It probably was a virus of some kind."

Dr. Cornel brushed his big hand across his face. "Thanks, Shelton," he said gruffly. "A man like me should be able to do better than I've done today—but one's own kid, you know?"

"I have to imagine," Cornel waited for him to say more; he did not. Then the other doctor laughed and shook his head. "Would you care to join the volunteers?" he asked, dropping the prized invitation casually at Garde's feet.

"Why?"
"The fire department, you know. It's one of my pet projects. We have to protect the town and we can't finance a competent department; so we've spent our money on equipment and organized this volunteer system..."

It was an efficient organization, too, as well as bestowing social prestige upon its members. The men proudly displayed the little tag on their car bumpers, treasured their privilege—and obligation—to attend the training meetings. They worked hard at such fires as occurred.

"I expect," Cornel was continuing, "that Kurt's gear is around somewhere. Hal, boots, slicker—some of us keep two outfits. One at home, one at work. I tote mine around as religiously as I do my surgical kit."

So would Garde, if he accepted the invitation. He wanted to accept. The invitation pleased him enormously. It was like getting a bid to the best frat on the campus.

"I didn't ask you," Cornel said dryly, "because of the word you brought about Susan. I was told at our general meeting last week to give you the invitation—I had just put it off."

"I'm honored to be asked," he said aloud. Next morning, Garde found the things piled on a chair in his office. The helmet and the coat fitted. The boots were too small—he could have squeezed into them—but, he decided, he'd rather buy his own.

When he mentioned this purchase to Frank McManus, that young man looked at him keenly. "Kurt's shoes must often pinch you," he decided.

"That's only to be expected, isn't it? Judging from the sort of chap he seems to have been." Frank understood. Others may have; others sometimes mentioned the situation to him. Mabel Ross did on the morning she brought the twins in to see the doctor.

Mabel was an Englishwoman, king-size, plain spoken. She spoke in a husky voice which she laid to her constant smoking. She and her retired army-officer husband lived in a handsome modern home newly built upon a hundred acres of pastureland at the edge of Bayard.

The doctor had known that the Rosses had twins, but was surprised to discover, this morning that they were very young—not yet quite two. He would have put Mabel down as being 50—but perhaps not. She had the weathered skin of a horsewoman and was as casual about her hair and clothes as she was with the children.

It was an active hour, and it would take almost that much time to get things back into shape. The liquid soap dispenser was empty. The more active twin having found the foot pedal. Cotton pads had been thrown all over the place.

Their cards told that they'd last been to this office when they were six months old.

Dr. Shelton looked stern. "It's important for children to have frequent check-ups, Mrs. Ross."

He was being blunt. "It will be a shock," he promised, speaking tightly. "now or later, for you to be told that Howard is not de-

Farmer Loses
Foot in Struggle
With Hay Baler

JAMESTOWN, N. D. (UP)—A farmer lost a foot in an hour-long struggle with a hay baler, then mounted his tractor and drove home to summon aid.

Doctors said friction from the rollers of the machine cauterized blood vessels in his leg and probably saved his life.

William Wilson, 37, was in good condition today at Jamestown Hospital, and physicians said he might leave in two weeks.

Wilson said he attempted to begin to push hay into the machine with his foot. It was caught tug his body into the machine.

After an hour, the rollers crushed the bone about 10 inches below the knee and Wilson was freed.

He tied a belt-tourniquet around his thigh, mounted the tractor and remained conscious until he was taken into surgery at the hospital.

all enjoyment out of his profession. "Is he better with children than I am?" he asked, because it would have been unbearable not to say something.

"Oh, no! The children love you—remember how they swarmed all over you back in that other room? But Kurt—well, he seems more adept with us mothers." (To Be Continued)

Now—a simple guide tells you which grade of gasoline your car needs—to give you all the power and mileage built into your engine without paying for octanes you don't need!

Today, you—like millions of other motorists—may be puzzled about the number of different grades of gasoline being sold—and trying to decide just which grade your car needs.

To clarify this situation, Socony Mobil engineers have developed a simple Mobilgas Grade Guide that quickly tells you whether your particular car needs our highest octane gasoline—Mobilgas Special—or Mobilgas R at regular price. You'll find this guide at your friendly Mobil dealer's—and reproduced here.

This year both our grades have been boosted again in octane. Mobilgas Special fully meets the power requirements of 1957 high-compression cars.

Mobilgas R today is equal in octane to the premium fuels of just a few years ago—can actually be used by 1 out of every 3 car owners now buying premium-priced gasoline!

Both grades contain MC... an exclusive additive formula that improves engine efficiency and saves gasoline four ways!

We sincerely believe that if you follow this guide, you will get all the power and mileage built into your engine—without paying for gasoline octanes your car doesn't need. See your friendly Mobil dealer.

Nearly $16 Billion Federal Funds Paid Midwest States During 1934-56

WASHINGTON (UP)—The federal government sent nearly 16 billion dollars to state and local governments and individuals in the Midwest between 1934 and 1956 according to a report issued Saturday.

The report, issued by the joint congressional committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures, showed payments of $80,534,854.817 by the federal government to citizens and governmental units in the United States in the 23-year period. The detailed report showed $15,888,876.138 of the national total went to the nine north central states during the period.

The payments were included under 175 different government programs, some of them now extinct, but does not include federal loans, payrolls or retirement payments. Illinois, as the most heavily populated state in the area, led the nine-state group with total payments of $4,031,388,374. Michigan was second with $2,658,348,603. Next in order were Minnesota, $1,809,223,855; Indiana $1,727,325,965; Wisconsin $1,646,968,851; Iowa $1,564,509,160; Nebraska $1,056,574,255; North Dakota $708,434,333; and South Dakota $686,102,242.

The Veterans Administration program for readjustment benefits and vocational rehabilitation reached a total of $754,206,792 from 1948 through 1956. The program hit its highest point in the state in 1948 when $182,568,467 was spent. By last year, the amount was down to $36,449,253.

The report showed a total of $387,343,762 spent in Illinois under the agricultural conservation program from 1934 through 1956. In the post-war period, the high point under the conservation program was $15,587,576 in 1947. Last year, $7,051,467 was spent in the state under the program.

A total of $34,224,633 was spent in Illinois from 1934 through 1956 on the school lunch program. Last year's expenditures were $3,047,726.

Payments to Illinois for old age assistance came to $403,617,831 in the 22-year period. In 1950, old age payments reached $42,271,306, but last year they were $39,498,856.

Other multi-million dollar totals in the 22 year span included $133,115,421 for aid to dependent children; $19,746,649 for hospital survey, planning and construction; and $65,029,976 for unemployment compensation and employment service administration.

Beauty in motion—Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Sedan with Body by Fisher.

Here's why Chevy's best showroom is the road!

Because Chevrolet's sleek good looks, its advanced features, are only part of the story. The big bonus is its remarkable roadability, the crisp precision handling that has posted an entirely new standard for cars in every price class. You can't read about that... but you can feel it in one minute on the road!

Good drivers know roadability is the single thing that means more driving satisfaction for more thousands of miles than anything else. More safety, too, for it grants greater stability on curves, greater traction on wet roads, better "bite" under hard braking, more accurate steering. There are reasons for all this, of course: Chevrolet's balanced weight distribution that takes excessive loads off the front wheels, the wide stance of outrigger rear springs, Ball-Race steering, spherical-joint front suspension. Sure, you can admire the sculptured lines in the showroom. But Chevy's a car specifically designed for beautiful motion—you have to travel in this one to know just how terrific it is. Try it, this week!

Irvin Denied Clemency

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Gov. Harold Handley today denied executive clemency to Leslie Irvin, under sentence to die a week from today for one of six "mad dog" murders in Indiana and Kentucky.

Handley turned down a petition filed with him late Monday asking clemency and a stay of execution from July 9, the date Gibson Circuit Judge A. Dale Eby set recently for Irvin to die in the electric chair at Indiana State Prison.

Handley's executive secretary Robert Fink, said he understood Irvin's attorneys went to Lafayette today to file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus with Judge W. Lynn Parkinson in Federal District Court.

Irvin was sentenced to death for the robbery shooting of W. Wesley Kerr, Evansville filling station operator, in December, 1954. Kerr was one of six persons slain in a four-month period in 1954 and 1955 in Vanderburg and Posey Counties in Indiana and at Henderson, Ky.

He was convicted in a 1955 trial at Princeton and sentenced to die early in 1956. But Irvin escaped jail and was free for weeks until California authorities caught him. At least three stays of execution postponed his date with death as Irvin's attorneys ran the gamut of legal moves to seek a new trial or save his life.

Mr. Jones was internationally known for his work and inventiveness in the field of mine safety devices. He was considered an expert in his field, particularly in the elimination of the mine dust.

Mrs. Mary McFarland Shea Dies at Benton

Mrs. Mary I. McFarland Shea, 73, died in the Franklin county hospital, Monday night. She had been living with her children since her health had failed. The body will lie in state at the Courtney funeral home in Galatia until the funeral at 2 p. m. Thursday, in the Little Springs church, in Hamilton county. Rev. Harrison Knight will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

State Nursing Scholarships to Be Explained at Gardner's Office, July 9

C. R. Gardner, Saline County Superintendent of Schools, today announced that arrangements had been completed for William E. Skadden, a representative of the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, to be in his office in the court house in Harrisburg on Tuesday, July 9, from 8 a. m. to 12 noon to explain the new State Nursing Scholarship plan for any interested students or parents.

He stated that Mr. Skadden will meet with individuals or groups, either parents or students. Especially invited are high school graduates of recent date or those who have been employed for several years in other fields but still interested in a career of nursing. Students presently enrolled in a school of nursing or in a college course in nursing who desire or need a scholarship to complete their training are urged to investigate this plan.

No appointments will be necessary during the scheduled hours, as the state welfare department representative will meet with individuals in conference or groups on a first come, first served basis, the same method used to award these nursing scholarships.

Parents or interested students are encouraged to attend the conference where instructions will be given for making immediate application for the nursing scholarships offered and currently available from the Illinois Department of Public Welfare.

The nursing scholarships are open to both men and women between the ages of 17 and 35 who are high school graduates. They must be citizens of the United States and reside in Illinois. The final requirement is that they be accepted by any approved school

Free Gov'ts Eventual In China, Russia: Dulles

The United States he said, recognizes regimes on the basis of their conduct in international affairs rather than on domestic policies.

Dulles at the same time said that the United States does not agree with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia that there are important differences between Red Chinese and Soviet communism at this point.

Hope for Korean Unity

On other international issues, Dulles said:

—There is no objection in principle by European countries to establishing an inspection disarmament zone which would include their territory. But he said many great difficulties still stand in the way of any final agreement on such a zone.

—Prospects for an international conference on unification of Korea are not good. There can be unification of Korea at any time the Communist puppet regime in North Korea accepts the principal of free elections. But Dulles noted that such free elections have been staunchly opposed by the Communists in the past.

—When judging France's record in dealing with colonial countries, it must be remembered that France has granted independence in Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia, Tunisia and Morocco during recent years. The Algerian problem is very difficult. But Dulles said if anyone wanted to go after colonialists they would be better advised to look at the evil manifestations of international communism in Eastern Germany, Czechoslovakia and other Red satellites.

Major Flood Threatens Sections Of Missouri After Torrential Rains

By United Press

A major flood disaster threatened portions of the St. Louis, Mo., area today in the wake of torrential rains laced with tornado funnels.

The Merramec River was rising faster than expected at Valley Park, Mo. southwest of St. Louis, and was expected to crest this afternoon at 32 feet, 15 feet above flood stage.

Some 200 persons in 75 homes were warned to evacuate. About 75 of the refugees were housed at a Red Cross disaster center in Valley Park High School overnight. Others moved in with friends and relatives.

U. S. 64, a main east-west route, was closed due to floodwaters near Valley Park, and the Pennsylvania Railroad had to reroute its trains over New York Central tracks because of washouts. A total of 14 bridges were washed out in St. Louis County.

Flash floods also hit the Springfield, Mo., area and parts of Kansas. The Saline River overflowed at Tescott, Kan., Monday, and Stranger Creek swelled to become a mile-wide lake near Tonganoxie, Kan., inundating valuable crop lands.

In the west, a Colorado heat wave sent torrents of melting snow down the high Rockies, boosting rivers and streams to dangerous levels.

Lamar, Colo., recorded a top of 102 Monday and it was 94 in Denver. Highway crews took advantage of the warm weather to ram through 50-foot snow drifts and open a road on 14,260-foot Mt. Evans.

Funnel clouds swept from overcast skies Monday night near Kansas City and Chanute, Kan., and near Norfolk and Lincoln, Neb. Several funnels were sighted southwest of Huron, S. D.

Olin Mathieson Begins Expansion Of Ordill Plant

EAST ALTON, Ill. (UP)—The Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. says it has begun an expansion program at its Ordill plant near Marion to develop and produce high energy solid propellants for rocket engines.

Norl Hamilton, vice president and general manager of the company's explosives division, said construction of new research and development laboratories, pilot plants and test and production facilities has been started.

A solid propellant organization within the explosives division has been formed to conduct the research, development and production of the propellants. Hamilton said the solid propellant organization will expand its development and production of gas generators for auxiliary power units for jet engines and missiles.

The new expansion program marks Olin's first major effort in solid propellants for rocket engines.

Destroy Alligator That Killed Boy

EAU GALLIE, Fla. (UP)—An 11-foot alligator which killed a 9-year-old boy playing beside a creek was caught and destroyed here Monday by conservation agents.

Agents said they found the big reptile near where the mangled body of little Allen Rice was found Sunday and the gator was killed.

Authorities said they were able to identify parts of the boy's body inside the stomach of the alligator.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Beatty, was the object of a huge week-end search after he disappeared Friday afternoon from his home near Horse Creek, where he and his friends were fond of playing.

$2 Bushel Support Price for Wheat

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Agriculture Department has confirmed that it will support 1957 crop wheat prices at a national average price of $2 a bushel.

The $2 rate originally was announced July 2, 1956, but the department is required by law to re-determine the support level on the basis of the parity price of wheat the beginning of the marketing year July 1.

Woman Found Alive After Week in Wilds

ALPINE, Tex. (UP)—Mrs. Clifford White described today how she filed her nails with stones and kept a calendar by adding pebbles to a row while she was lost for six days in the parched wilds of Big Bend National Park.

Mrs. White, of Houston, was spotted from the air Monday by a search plane pilot and rescued by a ground party. Her first question was about her husband, from whom she had become separated in the scorching, rugged country.

"Tell me yes or no. Is he dead?" She was told her husband had been found along a trail apparently dead from heat prostration. He had been trying to reach help after their air conditioned car became stuck in the sand.

Mrs. White said she recited the 23rd Psalm while waiting to be rescued because "it sounds cool." She was spotted near a cave-like mountain ledge where she had found a trickle of water.

Completely rational when found, Mrs. White, 46, was dismissed from the Alpine Hospital late Monday after an examination. Her face was covered with blisters and she had sores around her mouth from the thorns of prickly pears on which she said she subsisted along with "some other things I don't care to remember."

U. S. Depends on Women Players At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England — It was up to the girls to salvage some prestige for the United States today in the Wimbledon tennis championships.

Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., the last American survivors of an 18-man squad, were bounced out of the men's singles Monday. It marked the first time in 32 years at Wimbledon the United States failed to place a man in the semifinals of that division.

However, it was a different story in the women's singles, where five Yanks sought berths today in the semifinals.

In an all-American quarter-final match, four-time singles champion Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., played Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif.

Top-seeded Althea Gibson of New York, striving to become Wimbledon's first Negro champion, faced Sandra Reynolds of South Africa. The other matches pitted Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills, N. Y., against Rosa Maria Reyes of Mexico and Betty Rosenquest Pratt of Jamaica and South Orange, N. J., against Christine Truman of Britain.

Junior Legion Nine Defeats Springerton, 10-5

Harrisburg defeated Springerton Sunday 10-5 in a Junior Legion game played on the losers' diamond.

Harrisburg's record is now 4 wins and two defeats, good for third place in the league. Wednesday night second place Metropolis, with a 4-1 record, will meet the locals on the VFW diamond. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Expect Loes or Bunning to Start For A. L. Stars

CHICAGO — Baltimore's Billy Loes and Detroit's Jim Bunning, both rookie right handers in All-Star competition, appeared today as the most logical choices for starting pitcher for the American League in next week's 24th renewal of the annual inter-league battle.

Other right handers from whom New York manager Casey Stengel can pick his workmen will be his own Bob Grim and Early Wynn of Cleveland with a 10-8 record.

The southpaws were Don Mossi of Cleveland, Chicago's Billy Pierce and New York's Bobby Shantz, rejuvenated with the Yankees with a 9-1 record.

Stengel had nearly a third of his squad of 25 from his own roster, with eight Yankees making the trip to St. Louis for the July 9 scrap.

In addition to two starters, catcher Yogi Berra and center-fielder Mickey Mantle, he named his two pitchers; infielders Gil McDougald, Bobby Richardson and Bill Skowron; and Elston Howard, normally an outfielder but picked as a catcher for the All-Stars.

Detroit will have four representatives, starters Harvey Kuenn at shortstop, Al Kaline in right field; Bunning, and outfielder Charlie Maxwell.

Three teams placed three players each. Second baseman Nellie Fox, Pierce and outfielder Minnie Miñoso, who has an All-Star batting average of .356, join from Chicago; first baseman Vic Wertz, Mossi and Wynn from Cleveland; third baseman George Kell, catcher Gus Triandos and Loes from Baltimore.

Veteran outfielder Ted Williams, appearing on the squad for the 13th year, and rookie infielder Frank Malzone will represent Boston. Shortstop Joe DeMaestri is from Kansas City, and outfielder Roy Sievers from Washington.

Yanks Extend Lead with Mantle Homer in 10th; Cardinals Defeat Braves, 9-5

By United Press

One stroke of Mickey Mantle's bat—literally a lightning shot in the dark—was all the Yankees needed to put some daylight between them and the second-place White Sox.

That stroke by Mantle with one out in the 10th inning Monday night resulted in his 22nd homer of the season, a blow that produced a 3-2 victory over Baltimore and stretched the Yankees' lead to two games over Chicago.

Mantle wallowed his homer off ace reliever George Zuverink, who had entered the game after the Orioles had tied the score with a run in the last of the ninth.

The Yankee slugger had the satisfaction of winning the game before 45,276 fans, largest crowd ever to witness a major league night game in Baltimore. Southpaw Whitey Ford, making his first appearance since being sidelined with a sore shoulder, May 21, was credited with the victory in relief although Bob Grim had to bail him out when the Orioles threatened in the bottom of the 10th.

Detroit toppled the White Sox, 5-2; Kansas City snapped an 11-game losing streak with a 10-3 decision over Cleveland, and Washington nipped Boston, 5-4.

Braves' Lead Cut

The St. Louis Cardinals cut Milwaukee's lead in the National League to a half-game with a 9-5 victory over the Braves; the Phillies defeated the Pirates, 5-4; Brooklyn licked the Giants, 3-0, and the Cubs blanked Cincinnati, 6-0.

Two errors by Eddie Mathews and two by Johnny Logan helped the Cardinals to five unearned runs as they ended a six-game Milwaukee winning streak. The Cards staked their starter, Murry Dickson, to a 5-1 lead but the Braves knocked him out with a three-run rally in the fifth inning when Hank Aaron hit his 24th homer and Wes Covington homered with one on. Herm Wehmeier, who relieved Dickson, was the winner.

Granny Hamner and Rip Repulski each drove in two runs in a five-run eighth-inning rally that produced Philadelphia's victory over Pittsburgh. Pirate starter Ronnie Kline had a three-hit shutout until the Phillies knocked him out in the eighth. Jim Hearn was credited with the victory in relief of Jack Sanford.

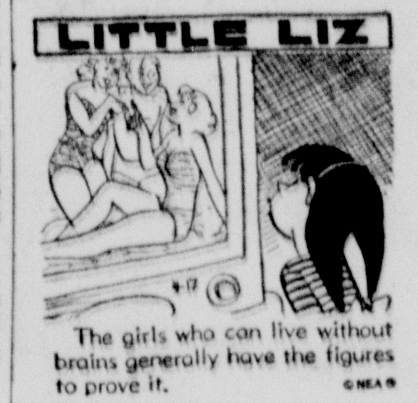

Don Drysdale of the Dodgers cooled off the red-hot Giants on five hits as Junior Gilliam played a key role in Brooklyn's triumph with a first-inning homer and a brilliant performance afield. The loser was southpaw Johnny Antonelli, who gave up six hits before retiring for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Rookie pitcher Dick Drott of the Cubs celebrated his 21st birthday by striking out eight batters and holding Cincinnati to four scattered hits in registering his seventh victory. The Cubs collected 10 hits, including a homer by Walt Moryn, as Joe Nuxhall suffered his fifth setback.

State Hires Public Relations Firm
To 'Ballyhoo' Southern Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special)—The state has hired a Chicago public relations firm to exploit Illinois as an attraction for industry and tourists. One full-page ad to be placed in a New York city newspaper is a "ballyhoo" for southern Illinois. It says "near the nation's center of population," Southern Illinois "is less than a day away from half the nation's consumers in some of our most prosperous markets."

Featured in the ad is a small map and listing of various southern Illinois cities such as Murphysboro, Pinckneyville, Du Quoin, Benton, West Frankfort and Zeigler and calls the area the "Future Ruhr Valley of Mid-America." It has such headlines over articles on southern Illinois towns as "Move to Mount Vernon," "Hospitalable Hillsboro" and "Busy Belleville."

The Sangamon county bar association has urged judges in its county courts to wear the customary black robes when presiding. One judge already has been measured for his costume. Black gowns have been traditional for judges in the federal, state supreme and appellate courts but usually downstate judges wear regular business suits.

ican Legion and the Auxiliary with the address of the day being given by Illinois Department Commander Homer Cummings of Chicago.

The crowd-gathering attraction of the convention will be the parade on Sunday afternoon at 2:00. Vilas Wood, Parade Chairman, reports that more than forty musical and drill team units have been signed up for the day indicating a larger than average division convention parade. Division Commander Stanley Brothers of Bridgeport stated, "The Mt. Carmel Parade actually will be what could be called a 'little department' parade with such units as the National Champion Black Knights Drum and Bugle Corps of Belleville and many other really good organizations committed to be here."

Congress is urged in an Illinois House - approved resolution to make the corn tassel the official floral emblem of the United States. The measure was offered by Rep. John K. Morris, D., Chadwick, a Carroll county farmer and raiser of thoroughbred Angus Aberdeen cattle, and a copy of the resolution has been sent Congress.

The resolution states that whereas corn as a food and as an agriculturist commodity has been closely associated with the settlement, growth and development of the nation and that it is the nation's leading state producer of corn Illinois feels it is fitting that the Congress establish the corn tassel as the national flower.

There was much political interest in the appointment by Gov. William G. Stratton of former State Rep. Franklin U. Stransky, Savanna, to be chairman of the State Parole and Pardon Board. Many wondered if it would end a bitter feud between Reps. George S. Brydia, Prophetstown, and Harold W. Widmer, Freeport, whose competition for the Republican nomination for state representative last year squeezed out Stransky.

Stransky was considered a "sure thing" for renomination in the new 34th representative district of Whiteside, Carroll, Stephenson and Jo Daviess counties but the feuding between Brydia and Widmer was so bitter that some of the voters overlooked Stransky with the result that he ran a rather poor third with Brydia running ahead of Widmer by about 400 votes although Stransky carried Jo Daviess and Carroll counties.

Stransky's appointment was a surprise to many. They recalled the 1955 session where the Savanna solon played a leading role on bills which were contrary to the governor's legislative program. The split, now apparently healed, grew out of Stratton's alleged failure to consult with Stransky when the latter was the Governor's majority floor leader in the 1953 session.

State Sen. Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, R., Downers Grove, who recently said she wasn't sure she wanted to run for the Senate in 1958, is beginning to feel the pressure of women voters who want her to be a candidate. Mrs. O'Neill, the first woman elected to the Illinois legislature (1922) is in her 25th year as a member of the House (18 years) and the Senate (seven years). First to urge her to stay in the Senate is the Hinsdale (DuPage County) Women's Republican Club which sent her a copy of a resolution it adopted. The resolution praised her as "having always considered her constituents her first obligation and endeavored honestly to carry out their wishes" and concluded by saying the members "look forward to her continuing in office."

Teen-agers Breaking Breakfast Habit

CHICAGO — (UP) — Teen-agers don't eat enough for breakfast, a recent survey by the Illinois Institute of Technology shows.

Dr. Louise Mojonnier, chairman of the institute's home economics department, said that more than 75 per cent of the boys and girls interviewed at a Chicago high school at poor breakfasts or none at all.

Miss Mojonnier said her conclusions correspond with data collected in other surveys in various parts of the nation.

Approximately 6 per cent of the boys and 24 per cent of the girls ate no breakfast at all.

"This practice of skipping breakfast is particularly alarming," Miss Mojonnier said, "because teen-agers, growing rapidly, require more nutrients at that age than at any other time in their lives."

Other meals during the day do not make up for the lack of breakfast, she said, because the total need of nutrients, such as proteins, calories and minerals is too high.
